ABOUT HEY LEMON

Hey bestie!

I'm Emily, the owner and artist behind Hey Lemon. I'm so glad you're here!

A little about me:

Around 2018 I started to realize, that as much as I love my kiddos and husband, I needed to find something that made me remember I'm a whole person aside from being a spouse and parent. I started working on lettering and dip pen calligraphy. I loved it so much, but I didn't love having open bottles of calligraphy ink around my two young and rambunctious kiddos...so in came the iPad.

I started learning about digital art and lettering and dove in head first. I absolutely love working on my iPad and that's how I create the majority of the art you can find on the products I offer in my shop.

I began focusing on a broad range of feminist and activist themes in my art, but in 2023 I niched down to the incredible world of romance books and literature, in general. I'm a book girlie, through and through.

What I've found is that feminist and activist themes run rampant in romance novels, and that makes me so happy. So you'll continue to find all of the above while you peruse my stickers and stationery, and I hope you find something that speaks to you and that you love.
